Response to Amendment

This action is in response to the request for reconsideration filled on 12/27/2004.

As per applicant's request claims 2-3 have been considered but they are not persuasive.

Claims 2-3 stands rejected under 35 USC 102(e) unpatentable over Garland et al USPN 6,289,502.

Applicant argues,

I) "Steps of verifying, using the model checker, whether each of the plurality of individual conditions is fulfilled by the state transition system; and then automatically releasing the byte code program further processing when the state transition system fulfills all of the plurality of individual conditions", as to claims 2 and 3.

In response to applicant's arguments

I) Respectfully, it is to remind that the applicant needs to read the cited reference carefully. It was noted that the cited reference fairly suggest validating system properties can also be used such known as "model checking," is based on exhaustive checking of all states in an instance of a system design in which the size of the system (i.e., the number of states) is restricted.

Another approach is based on simulation of the operation of the system, in which a typically more complex (e.g., larger number of states) instance of the system is checked by examining a sample sequence of states or of transition labels ("actions") resulting from execution of the system and or can include instructions that can be interpreted or executed using another program such as a programming language interpreter, or a virtual machine (such as a Java Virtual Machine). Code generators 110 can produce lower-level instructions directly, for instance producing "byte compiled" instructions for execution by a Java Virtual Machine and the effect also includes so that condition which results of the incremental procedure . Therefore limitations are met by the reference.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
